Compo's exhortation to the faithful

Sí, es una semana más Thirstday, en otra buena hash que esperar. Nuestra liebre es Tía María y este es su primer sendero por el que se para nosotros, por lo que esperan algunos giros y vueltas español. Partimos de ...

(Yes it's another Thirstday week, so another good hash to look forward to. Our hare is Tia Maria and this is her first trail laying for us, so expect some Spanish twists and turns. We start from ...)

Tia Maria responded bueno que bien!
perfecto el español...
Gracias por el detalle.
besitos
TM

which Compo babel-fished as "good that well! perfect the Spanish... Thanks for the detail. little kisses METRIC TON " Now there is a Hash name for you!

A small but perfectly formed Pack gathered for a virgin (for MTH3) Hare. The description of Tia Maria's day left the Pack exhausted before we even started. Up early to give 1hr lecture. 1 hr questions and answers, 3 1/2 hours to set the run (and then 2 1/2 hours to run it).

The markings were explained and the results submitted for peer review (well we all peered at them). DPS was explained.

Two Hash Flashes were taken to make the Pack appear bigger. than it was

The Hare pointed the way to the first Check and after checking out all four directions Trail was found down Booker Avenue. Mather Avenue beckoned with falsies along all possible routes. Out onto Allerton Road and up through the Golf Course.

The Hare had even managed to arrange Spanish bluebells along the route.

Onto an artistically placed Check

A Check Back to a specially demolished wall.

Is there no end to our Hare's talents?

Into Allerton Towers with some spectacular blossoms. The Hare had seen them before but FCUK was nearly running backwards in admiration.

Out onto Menlove Avenue and Allerton Road and then it was Woolton Wood

The gate posed no problem for Compo

A welcome sign

as we admired the view

Starting off again and straight onto a Check Back

Into Clarkes Gardens (no apostrophe according to Google in case you were wondering) and along a woodland path with a Check Back at the end.

Hash Flash and The Hare took great delight in allowing the remainder of the Pack to find the Check Back for themselves

Check back up here

Up the slope and a long run down to DPS (Deserved Pub Stop)

Eventually the run continued out onto Woolton Road and a long stretch down

Some more multi-marked Checks and finally

Back at the cars at a spread of Spanish delights awaited the Pack which seemed to disappear as quickly as if there had been twice the number.

A sort of circle was called (Overdrive had cried off due to a cold).

Tia Maria (Metric Ton) for the run

Compo, FCUK, Carthief, and Brian for all reckoning they had followed the most falsies.

Compo and Tia Maria for their discussions and actions concerning Besitos

Carthief for the lack of Spanish cheese.

Tia Maria for not being able to name 7 Spanish cheeses.

Carthief and Brian for Checking together (whatever that means)

We retired to Greenhills to relax and recover our lost liquid.
