

ERSEY THIRSTDAYS HASH HOUSE HARRIERS

16th February 2012

Run Number 199

Starting at the Augustus John, Liverpool University

The Pack: Snoozanne, Madhatter, Alternative Entrance, Carthief, FCUK(Hare), Compo, ET, Grutel, Tia Maria, (10" kept the seats warm at the venue (does that count?), Bloody Bollocks got himself into the Hash Flash at the Festival (that probably counts even less?).

FCUK's runs are always slightly different and he did not disappoint.

First up no Hash Flash "we will have one at the beer festival". Secondly the Hare decided to follow "en bicyclette"

The third surprise was shortly after we had started and a Hash marking appeared

How the Hare had organised this I do not know but he must have done it a while ago judging by the missing bits of paint.

Off we went in a fine drizzle which quickly dried up. The Hare was well prepared anyway

But not before he had somehow given us the slogan

And a

Tia Maria was pleased to be able to cheer at this location.

A quick reminder of Liverpool's allegiance

A good trip around the local streets with the clock ticking and the beer being drunk meant a shorter run than usual but we still had a

Which Megapixels managed to capture with some success (especially if you know what you are looking at (Anglican Cathedral))

The Hare presented a split although he eschewed the normal Rambos / Wimps terms and used S and H (or is that an I (Hmmm Slow and Idiots would fit).

Needless to say we all went right and attempted the gate

But the rain had made it slippery and with the beer beckoning a slide under the gate was quickly voted down. Back to the slow route.

Up to the RC cathedral where Megapixel showed off his superior camera

Whilst Hash Flash managed the rather scuffed out

Over the top and onto the entrance to the beer festival.

The other participants were slightly disrupted in their quest for beer whilst we posed for our Hash Flashes.

A selection of beers

Bloody Bollocks front and centre.

The beer flowed well and there being no circle all sins are saved up until next week. RA take note!

A thief in Paris planned to steal some paintings from the Louvre.

After careful planning, he got past security, stole the paintings and made it safely to his van.

However, he was captured only two blocks away when his van ran out of fuel.

When asked how he could mastermind such a crime and then make such an obvious error, he replied, "Monsieur, that is the reason I stole the paintings. I had no Monet to buy Degas to make the Van Gogh."

(And you thought I didn't have De Gaulle to tell you this one!)

Well, I figured I have nothing Toulouse.
