

Run No. 20 MTH3 Inaugural Autumnal Equinox run

21st September 2006

The MTH3 (without the founder and co-founder) had descended into a taxicab hash, but an elite one at that, with each of the runners being able to count all the others on the fingers of one hand (i.e. 6 in total including the Hare Peter Pan and Leveret Miss Shiggy). This made life easier when checking whether anyone was lost.

Meanwhile back at the start at the carpark next to Conway Station (not to be confused with the location indicated on the web site which was about ½ mile away in Dover Close) a Hash flash (delayed due to Bess receiving training in sit stay)

After a pep talk by the Hare, saying that we should run in pairs, and that there were 2 Regroups and 1 Observation Point, we set off singly past the Station and into Birkenhead.

The trail (laid in flour and partially demolished by the strong winds) led towards the docks and the first Observation point at the Woodside Ferry.

This was quickly followed by the second of “1 Observation Point”

Some more trail followed around the Morpeth docks, a false trail across the Egerton Bridge and finally back to Conway Street where the pull of the beer was firmly resisted as the trail led over the road and a circuit back to the start.

Peter Pan wondering what he had written where we indulged in the normal face feeding frenzy and down downs for everyone

Snoozanne waiting for instructions – Sergeant Pecker thinking or perhaps tasting

The pack retired to the Crown where the Hare had reserved a room for 20 people. The landlord had obviously heard of the Hash as he had installed a CCTV camera in the room

 For the pedants amongst us (and we know who you are) the equinox was actually at 4:02 on 23rd this year due to the placement of the leap year and for the anoraks amongst us here is the web site that will tell you when they are for the next 4 years
