

MEREBY THIRSTDAYS HASH HOUSE HARRIERS

25th June 2015

Run Number 295

Merebrook Inn, Bromborough

The Pack Carthief (Hare), fcuk, VR, OTT, Hansel, Sprog, Overdrive, Cleo, Snoozanne, Mad Hatter, 10secs, Tie One, Francis, Rachel

The pack gathered outside the Merebrook. A couple of virgins Francis and Rachel were identified and welcomed.

“They call me Mellow Yellow”, in the immortal words of Donovan

The trail turned off Allport Road onto Dibbinsdale Rd and inevitably entered the leafy environs of Dibbinsdale itself.

where the pace and a handy seat proved too much for some members of the pack.

After passing the boundaries of Compo's demesne, we briefly emerged into civilization near Spital Station and then re-entered the woodland of Brotherton Park. Eventually we headed for the more urban setting of the New Chester Road

Carthief enjoys winding people up and then turned down towards the river, along Old Hall and Riverwood Roads.

A case for the Advertising Standards Agency?

We flirted with the fringes of Eastham Country Park before returning to the New Chester Road and reassembling.

A new sign was invented for the “Spontaneous Regroup” shown in (in)action here

After a final woodland diversion

we found the On Inn and headed back down Allport Road.

Yes I know this is Bridle Road not Allport Road—I blame Deputy Deputy Hash Flash....

Where your scribe goes to get his Hair cut.

The Merebrook staff appeared not to “brook” our “mere” presence in the pub carpark so we set up our food table outside.

Down-downs were awarded to:

The Hare

Fcuk: for spreading the rumour that Rachel was a Rebecca

Mad Hatter and OTT: this week's "Comfortable Ones", see earlier photo

Hash Virgin: Rachel

Returnees: Francis, OTT, Hansel, Overdrive, Cleo, Tie One

Shortcutters: Cleo, fcuk, Mad Hatter, OTT.

Snoozanne: Wilful and persistent lateness (this time blamed on a flat car battery—guilty as charged, boom boom).

Finally we retired to the pub for a discussion of the Run 300 weekend away and a few pints of the landlord's finest (well, only) ale.
