Run Number 387

The Victoria 6 Victoria Road, Liverpool, L17 0DL

Carthief, Cleopatra, Wigan Pier, FCUK, Compo, ET (Hare), Andy, Jo, Ellie

After several changes of Hares (VR was hors de combat, Wigan Pier volunteered but went down with flu, Jo volunteered to assist a live run but the winner was ET even though he was the Hare on the last run)

Apparently the last time we were at the Victoria we had won the Pub Quiz but this time the place was empty. We were nearly ready to set off when Wigan Pier WhatsApped (is that a verb?) to say that she was lost so please wait.

The Hash Flash was timed at 19:15 so assuming that the camera was set up correctly we set off 15 minutes late.

The Hare said that there were several Checks and Check Backs and then pointed up Victoria Road as a signal to start.

In past years when nobody had a running app we used to take photos of street signs to work out where the trail had been but having got out of the habit (I don't mean stopped being nuns) the only recorded locations were 5 Check Backs and a Regroup. Memory says that there was a second regroup.

The arrows were enormous but there was one particular set which caused a slight frisson

Were we supposed to go either side of the lamppost or try to straddle it (painfully?)

Another highlight was the playground where Andy showed off his technique

Whilst the distaff (is that a permitted description in 2018?) showed various stages of athleticism and / or stretching technique.

Never one to pass up a challenge FCUK joined in the fun

A comparison on “running” styles

The

eventually appeared after a nice long run.

Cleopatra had prepared food and a suitable wall was found

Including an excellent cake

Down Downs (as written down by your scribe)

The Hare for the run

Returnees: Cleopatra, Andy, Ellie,

Cleo for her cake

Ellie for miming cooeing (is that a word?)

Compo Hummus child (I really must make more legible notes)
