

ERSEY THIRSTDAYS HASH HOUSE HARRIERS

Run Number 54 24th May 2007: St Michael's Station

The Pack: Austin Powers, RTFuct, Snoozanne, Sarah, Paul (hare)

Whilst local girls levitated in the background, an unusually small pack gathered for run number 54. As RA, it was down to Austin Powers to apportion the blame for the small turnout before Paul did a quick check to make sure the rain hadn't washed away the trail. We set off at a cracking pace but took a while to find our way through a break in the fence into the Garden Festival grounds where Snoozanne posed for this ready-made Jpeg.

Snoozanne demonstrating hashing technique no. 344: Hare divining at the check.

Using special night photography, MTH3 hash flash caught this image of Sarah and the full moon. Ooer – hairy palmed, scary stuff.

Sarah apparently telling an hilarious anecdote during the run – or maybe just straightening up after a crouchy old time were-wolfing.

Paul agile as a squirrel on the monkey bars – but can you see his nuts?

Every time RTfuct plays hash flash, she likes to take a self-portrait. Austin Powers disapproves of such narcissistic behaviour and wouldn't dream of trying to muscle in on a shot. Ever.

Then to everyone's amusement, Snoozanne put her t-shirt on the wrong way round and had to turn it round. Ha ha ha, how we laughed. Silly Snoozanne.

Sillier and more hilarious even than that was when Austin Powers realised he'd stood in a big doggy do do! Here he is trying to clear his tread.

The hazy effect is the dog poop stench wafting up from AP's shoe.

As the Barbie cooked up our weaners, Austin Powers presided over the circle – down downs all round then. It's not hard to guess who's going to get a down-down with such a small pack – we all had one or two for almost completely spurious reasons. As ever. Isn't it time we got a new RA – well yes in fact it might well be – the choice is yours – hash erections to take place this week, nominate and vote your favourite/most despised MTH3 hasher on to next year's mismanagement...we could even propose some novel places on the mismanagement such as 'fireman'. See below how Paul uses his most versatile appendage to put out the Barbie. A true hero, and a fantastic hare, even though, from AP's point of view, it was a really shitty trail.
